

The Collective Bargaining Agreement prohibits supervisors from performing bargaining unit work in the Pensacola installation.

When supervisors do our work it adversely impacts our employee complement, diminishes the rights we have to our bid assignments, undermines the regular work force and it provides the employer with a fundamentally dishonest measure of workplace production.

As long as supervisors are allowed to do our work our number will continue to shrink and we will keep on losing our best jobs.

Let's stand together and stop management now. If you see a supervisor doing bargaining unit work ask for your shop steward, fill in the blanks below and together we will prevail.
